2000 SOCATA TBM-700B | S/N 158

OVERVIEW

Valor is proud to offer this exceptional 2000 Socata TBM-700B, serial number 158, a standout model that delivers meaningful upgrades over the TBM 700A. With a significantly larger rear entry door, this aircraft enhances passenger access and baggage loading while offering increased maximum zero-fuel weight and refined interior amenities. These advancements ensure greater convenience and comfort without compromising the renowned performance characteristics of the TBM series.

This TBM-700B has been outfitted with an upgraded Garmin Next-Gen Avionics suite, featuring the advanced Pilot G600 EFIS and dual GTN-750 Comm/Nav/GPS touchscreens with WAAS capability. The avionics package is further complemented by GDL-69 Datalink and GTX 330ES/327 ADS-B systems, ensuring superior situational awareness and compliance with modern airspace requirements. Additionally, this aircraft benefits from performance-enhancing five-blade swept propellers and a cutting-edge LED taxi and landing light system.

Serial number 158 represents a pivotal advancement in the TBM lineup, being one of the first models to include a modern oxygen tank system, eliminating the need for the outdated chemical oxygen system. The aircraft is available for viewing at the historic Bowman Field Airport (KLOU) in Louisville, KY.
